

Heidi Jacob, composer

Network for New Music, the Hildegard Chamber Players, Temple University's Contemporary Music Ensemble, flutists Mimi Stillman and Adeline Tomasone, pianist Charles Abramovic, cellist Jeffrey Solow and bassoonist Pascal Gallois. Her works have won prizes in International Alliance for Women in Music Competition (Judith Lang Zaimont Prize division), and were selected as part of Network for New Music's Poetry Project, and the 2006 Festival of Contemporary Music in Oakland, California.

Composer, cellist, and conductor, Heidi Jacob is Associate Professor of Music at Haverford College. A graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music and The Juilliard School, she has performed throughout the United States and Europe and has recorded for Capstone Records, Albany Records and Navona records. She graduated in 2011 with a D.M.A. in composition from Temple University where she studied with Matthew Greenbaum, Richard Brodhead and Maurice Wright. Ms. Jacob's solo and chamber music works have been performed at the Kimmel Center in Philadelphia, Summer Stars Classics in Ocean Grove, New Jersey, at The Philadelphia Chamber Music Series, Rutgers University's Complex Weave: Women and Identity in Contemporary Art installation and by the Momenta String Quartet, the Argento Ensemble,